PROJECT

So what is the BRIDGE Project?

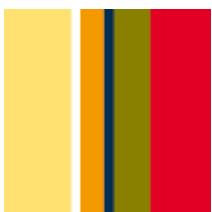

- A course in electoral processes because...
 - to achieve effective, sustainable electoral administrations, the development of the capacity of the staff needs to be prioritised
 - without the appropriate skills in place, election processes can be undermined
 - An electoral culture is easier to sustain when all stakeholders have a clear understanding of electoral processes

The History of BRIDGE

- First Expert Advisory Group (EAG) meeting in 1999
- Project first implemented in 2001 in East Timor
- Till that point there had been few formal opportunities available for comprehensive professional development in electoral administration.

Original Aims of BRIDGE

- to strengthen election administrators' capacity to conduct their work in an effective and efficient manner
- to enhance electoral administrators' professionalism
- to build teams and networks both within electoral administrations and with the broader community

Potential New BRIDGE Audiences

- Electoral Commissioners
- EMB Staff
- Members of the Media
- Political Parties
- Parliamentarians
- Security Forces
- Civil Society Groups
- Academics and University Students

BRIDGE Methodology

- uses content developed by electoral experts from around the world
- is not prescriptive, it encourages participants to develop creative and appropriate solutions to challenges
- is activity-based and focuses on practical issues
- is flexible and adaptable

How BRIDGE Has Been Conducted

- modules for the nationals of one country;
 - Eg Australian Electoral Commission
- modules for an international or regional group;
 - Eg Melanesian Countries in Vanuatu Feb 2007
- modules with or through a partner organisation
 - Eg Georgia with UNDP, IFES and IDEA

When to Conduct BRIDGE

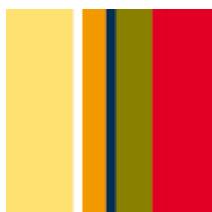

- BRIDGE should not be seen as a “quick fix” for electoral management bodies and their stakeholders
- It is a long-term, capacity development tool
- BRIDGE is best conducted in the evaluation and planning periods of the Election Cycle

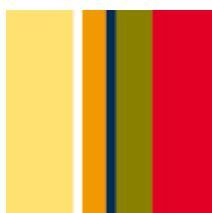

New Expanded Content

- From 10 Modules to 23 Modules – covering all aspects of electoral processes
- Many more examples and case studies from around the world
- New material for each module
